

“Terms of Service: Big Data and Your Rights in the Digital Age”

Authors Michael Keller and Josh Neufeld

Tuesday, May 19

10 -11:30 a.m.

Charles E. Young Research Library Main Conference Room
Free

The graphic novel Terms of Service examines the role of technology and the implications of sharing our personal information online. Keller, a reporter at Al Jazeera America, and Neufeld, a nonfiction cartoonist, take readers on a practical journey toward understanding digital-age privacy in everyday life.

Come hear excerpts from the work, gain insight into privacy concerns, and learn about the authors' collaborative creative process. An audience discussion will follow their talk.

All attendees will receive a print copy of Terms of Service, which is also available in electronic form at projects.aljazeera.com/2014/terms-of-service. The authors will be available to sign copies.

Admission is free, but space is limited, and reservations are requested to www.library.ucla.edu/events/terms-service-big-data-your-rights-digital-age.

Co-presented by the UCLA Library and the Office of the UCLA Chief Privacy Officer